

JACK ET NANCY

A simple line drawing of a white bird, likely a seagull, in flight. The bird is shown from a side profile, facing left. Its wings are fully extended, with long, pointed feathers clearly defined by black outlines. The tail is also visible, showing a few feathers. The bird's head is small with a simple beak and a single eye. The entire bird is white, with black outlines for its features and wings. The background is a solid light blue.

GALLIMARD
JEUNESSE